

Decree Of Canonical Parish Merger
St. Dominic Parish
St. Matthew Parish
Effective December 1, 2024

Beginning in September of 2022, I initiated an extensive process of listening, visioning and discernment regarding the future of this parish and others in the City of Baltimore and the surrounding areas. The general public, parish leadership and individual parishioners were invited to attend a series of public meetings to advise me on the best future for these parishes. More than 6,000 persons participated in the two-year process. An initial proposal for reconfiguration that was prepared by 250 lay and clergy leaders was made public in March of 2024. Two public meetings were held after this announcement to receive feedback from individual parishes and individual parishioners regarding the initial proposal. All have also been given the opportunity to provide their views to me by mail, email or individually throughout the process.

In regard to the proposed merger of St. Dominic parish and St. Matthew parish, the members of St. Dominic parish participated in a survey, attended open prayerful discussions and took part in three visioning sessions related to the future of their parish. After additional changes were made based on the feedback received from that process, the final proposal was made public on May 22, 2024.

The Presbyteral Council and Archdiocesan Finance Council (BOFA) were asked for feedback on both the initial proposal in April 2024 and the final proposal in May 2024 for the above-referenced merger prior to their final canonical review of the proposed plan. In accordance with canons 50, 120 §1, 121 and the requirements of canon 515 §2, the proposal to canonically merge St. Dominic parish into St. Matthew parish was formally presented to the Presbyteral Council on September 3, 2024 for the required canonical consultation. After reviewing and discussing the materials related to the canonical merger, the members gave their unanimous support to the proposal.

The following facts regarding St. Dominic parish constitute the reasons, in summary, for the canonical merger of St. Dominic parish into St. Matthew parish (canon 51):

- The number of Catholic households in St. Dominic parish boundaries has declined from 979 in 2004 to 83 in 2023;
- Only 27 of these Catholic households are registered at St. Dominic parish;
- The number of parishioners attending Mass at St. Dominic parish has declined from 360 in 2004 to 56 in 2023;
- 77% of Mass attendees (43 persons) are over the age of 60;
- 91% of Mass attendees (51 persons) are over the age of 50;
- The parish has shared a pastor and expenses with Most Precious Blood parish since 1995 and with St. Anthony of Padua parish since 2010 without any increase in parishioners or income;
- There have been only 3 baptisms, 14 confirmations and 3 weddings at the parish since 2019;
- The parish operated at a deficit for 13 of the last 20 years;
- The unrestricted assets are not adequate to cover the current year's parish operations;
- The parish is experiencing an increase in both costs of facilities and unpaid bills, indicating an inability to cover all expenses;
- The parish would need over 5.4 times its current offertory to meet the cost of buildings operations and annual recommended facilities reserve, leaving no funds with which to provide ministry;
- The parish now has only $48,348 in unrestricted assets to pay its bills;
- There are 7 other parishes within 2 miles of this location;
- St. Dominic parish is 1.5 miles (2.4 kilometers) from St. Matthew parish; and
- St. Matthew parish has the infrastructure to welcome the parishioners of the parish and their ministries.

From these facts considered as whole, it is my opinion that left to itself, St. Dominic parish, with very few parishioners and insufficient resources, is unable to provide a satisfactory level of pastoral ministry and sacramental life. Merging with St. Matthew parish will allow the greatest opportunity to continue providing necessary ministries for the parishioners of St. Dominic parish.

Having heard all who have an interest in this matter, including the opinion of the members of the Presbyteral Council who were properly convened according to law and voted on this matter in my presence, I believe the reasons listed above in this decree establish a just cause for the canonical merger of the St. Dominic parish into St. Matthew parish. As a result, I do hereby decree that St. Dominic parish is to be canonically merged into St. Matthew parish, Baltimore effective December 1, 2024.

Boundaries

The boundaries of St. Matthew parish shall reflect the current outside boundaries of the two parishes on the date of the canonical merger.

Assets and Liabilities

Until the issuance of a subsequent decree, the temporal goods, assets, and liabilities under civil law of the civilly incorporated St. Dominic parish and the civilly incorporated St. Matthew parish, all under the canonical administration of the pastor of St. Matthew parish, shall nonetheless remain separate and distinct. Furthermore, I order the sequestration pro tempore of the temporal goods and assets of each civil corporation for the exclusive use of meeting the debts and liabilities of their respective civil corporations (cf. can. 1496 §1).

Status of Churches

While St. Dominic Church remains a sacred edifice to which the faithful have the right of entry under canon 1214, it now becomes a subsidiary church of Saint Matthew parish, with permission to reserve the Blessed Sacrament there (cf. can. 934 §1, 2^o) and with the pastor being responsible for the reserved Eucharist (cf. can. 934 §2). St. Matthew Church will remain the parish church for the canonically merged parishes.

Sacramental Registers and Other Parish Records

The parish registers for St. Dominic parish are to be closed as of November 30, 2024. Any entries after that date in the registries of St. Matthew parish must indicate at which church the sacramental event took place. All closed registers shall be kept and maintained by St. Matthew parish or sent to the Archdiocesan Archives in accordance with Archdiocesan policy. The parish records (financial, etc.) of St. Dominic parish will become the property and responsibility of St. Matthew parish on December 1, 2024.

Parish Seal

All parish seals shall be the property of St. Matthew parish beginning December 1, 2024.
