

Decree Of Canonical Parish Merger
St. Edward Parish
St. Bernardine Parish
Effective December 1, 2024

Beginning in September of 2022, I initiated an extensive process of listening, visioning and discernment regarding the future of this parish and others in the City of Baltimore and the surrounding areas. The general public, parish leadership and individual parishioners were invited to attend a series of public meetings to advise me on the best future for these parishes. More than 6,000 persons participated in the two-year process. An initial proposal for reconfiguration that was prepared by 250 lay and clergy leaders was made public in March of 2024. Two public meetings were held after this announcement to receive feedback from individual parishes and individual parishioners regarding the initial proposal. All have also been given the opportunity to provide their views to me by mail, email or individually throughout the process.

In regard to the proposed merger of St. Edward parish and St. Bernardine parish, the members of St. Edward parish participated in the process by completing surveys, holding listening sessions on the parish campus, attending prayerful discernments and participating in three visioning sessions, including one especially for Black Catholics. Meetings were also held with parish leadership from both parishes before a final decision was made. After additional changes were made based on the feedback received from that process, the final proposal was made public on May 22, 2024.

The Presbyteral Council and Archdiocesan Finance Council (BOFA) were asked for feedback on both the initial proposals in April 2024 and the final proposal in May 2024 for the above-referenced merger prior to their final canonical review of the proposed plan. In accordance with canons 50, 120 §1, 121 and the requirements of canon 515 §2, the proposal to canonically merge St. Edward parish into St. Bernardine parish was formally presented to the Presbyteral Council on September 3, 2024, for the required canonical consultation. After reviewing and discussing the materials related to the canonical merger, the members gave their unanimous support to the proposal.

The following facts regarding St. Edward parish constitute reasons, in summary, for the canonical merger of St. Edward parish into St. Bernardine parish (canon 51):

- The general population within St. Edward parish boundaries has declined by 26% in the last 20 years;
- The number of registered Catholic households at St. Edward parish has declined from 260 in 2004 to 135 in 2023;
- Only 41 of these Catholic households are registered with St. Edward parish;
- St. Edward parish has shared a pastor with St. Gregory the Great parish since 2021;
- The number of persons attending Mass at St. Gregory the Great parish has declined from 225 in 2004 to 62 in 2023;
- 67% of Mass attendees (42 persons) are over the age of 60;
- Sacramental activity has significantly decreased at St. Gregory the Great parish with 33 baptisms, 6 confirmations and 5 marriages in the last 10 years;
- The parish has had operational deficits for 17 of the last 20 years;
- The parish needs over 3 times its current offertory to meet the cost of buildings operations and annual recommended facilities reserve, leaving few funds for ministry;
- The parish currently has only $47,198 in total assets, while its annual costs related to keeping up its buildings is $98,808;
- St. Edward parish and St. Bernadine parish share a unique history and culture;
- St. Edward parish is 1.1 miles (1.8 kilometers) from St. Bernadine parish;
- There are 7 parishes within 2 miles of St. Edward parish;
- St. Bernadine parish is able to accommodate the parishioners and ministries of St. Edward parish.

From these facts, considered as a whole, it is my opinion that left to itself, St. Edward parish will only continue to decline with the resultant diminishing of pastoral ministry and sacramental life. Merging with St. Bernardine parish will allow the greatest opportunity to continue and even strengthen the ministries which are presently offered for the parishioners of St. Edward parish.

Having heard all who have an interest in this matter, including the opinion of the members of the Presbyteral Council who were properly convened according to law and voted on this matter in my presence, I believe the reasons listed above in this decree establish a just cause for the canonical merger of St. Edward parish into St. Bernardine parish. As a result, I do hereby decree that St. Edward parish is to be canonically merged into St. Bernardine parish, Baltimore, effective, December 1, 2024.

The boundaries of St. Bernardine parish shall reflect the current outside boundaries of the two parishes as of the date of the canonical merger.

Until the issuance of a subsequent decree, the temporal goods, assets, and liabilities under civil law of the civilly incorporated St. Edward parish and the civilly incorporated St. Bernardine parish, all under the canonical administration of the pastor of St. Bernardine parish, shall nonetheless remain separate and distinct. Furthermore, I order the sequestration pro tempore of the temporal goods and assets of each civil corporation for the exclusive use of meeting the debts and liabilities of their respective civil corporations (cf. can. 1496 §1).

While St. Edward Church remains a sacred edifice to which the faithful have the right of entry under canon 1214, it now becomes a subsidiary church of St. Bernardine parish, with permission to reserve the Blessed Sacrament there (cf. can. 934 §1, 2^o) and with the pastor being responsible for the reserved Eucharist (cf. can. 934 §2). St. Bernardine Church will remain the parish church for the canonically merged parishes.

The parish records (financial, etc.) of St. Edward parish will become the property and responsibility of St. Bernardine parish on December 1, 2024.
